

Apisoft International, a committed and responsible company

EDUCATION

From the very beginning, education has been of great importance to Apisoft.

We propose an Education offer of the software OptiMaint to enable students to train for free on a CMMS software and schools to have a tool available for teaching computerized maintenance. In this frame, we also do presentations in schools and universities to present CMMS in general.

Moreover, we promote education inside our company providing regular training to our employees, hiring part time students in key positions, offering internships for specific missions and participating to specialized fairs (ex : Formathèque, ...).

HUMANITARIAN ACTION

The software OptiMaint is sold all over the world, including in emerging and developing countries.

A wide disparity exists in these countries where poverty is sometimes overwhelming. It seems to us that the development of our activities in these territories should come with a right-full give back.

The development of a country impedes access to education for all. Thus we decided to support the association « EDUKAFASO », which promotes education in Burkina Faso (Western Africa) by:

- Facilitating children' schooling
- Providing school furniture to students
- Taking care of education fees to allow students to go to high school
- Providing teaching material to schools
- Creating libraries inside the schools and make books available for everyone
- Organize afterschool back up sessions
- Offering lunch in schools where no hot meal could be served before.

On the contrary to big NGOs, every euro given to this association is used at 100%: the choice was made not to invest in administration or advertising but only in what they actually dedicate to.

Since January 2014, for every simultaneous access of OptiMaint sold on the world, Apisoft International retrieves 50 euros to the association. The amount of money gathered will allow the equivalent of one new school construction per year.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Apisoft commits to environment protection by acting responsibly (limit printing, No more hard support for the software, vehicle fleet often renewed and targeting at low emissions vehicles, waste sorting and recycle paper) and by offering special rates, Green Rate, to companies with a sustainable and environment protection oriented activity.
